

Dear LifeWave Team Member,

Congratulations on your decision and welcome to the LifeWave Family!

You are now entering what will soon prove to be an incredibly exciting time in your life. Just think about it: you now have the resources available to you to not only help others with our incredible line of products, but you have the potential to build a part-time or even full-time business with LifeWave!

What should you do next?

First, as with any new business, learn as much as you can.

- Read our product brochures
- Read the information on our website
- Watch our industry-leading videos
- Participate on our weekly conference calls
- Become familiar with the tools that you have available to you in your back office.

Second, use our products. The best way to take advantage of LifeWave technology is to make it a part of your lifestyle. And the dramatic life-changing experiences that you will have with our LifeWave patches will provide you with the stories that you can share with others in building your business. As they say, you will become a product of the product!

Third, we are here to help you and so is your sponsor! There is a wealth of support available to you in our LifeWave community and you can take advantage of it in getting started. When you need assistance contact and work with your sponsor, listen in on our weekly training calls, use the tools in your back office, attend one of the weekly LifeWave meetings, and contact one of our knowledgeable customer service representatives.
